Beer

Tsing Tao (China)

68

Delicious, easy-to-drink lager that is not arrogant, or pretentious. The nose is quite aromatic, with plenty of hop. On the palate it is very smooth and has a creamy body, with good, light, bright hop character and a citrusy, clean finish.

Hong Kong Beer – Gamblers Gold – Golden Ale (Hong Kong)

78

Lightly roasted maltiness, an aromatic nose, fruity ester accents, and a clear, golden complexion make this a delicately balanced, dry ale carefully brewed with European malt and noble North American hop varieties. Gently dry hopped, this is an ideal session ale for any beer lover.

Hong Kong Beer – Amber Lager (Hong Kong)

78

Copperish hue, malt forward profile with a dash more hop character than a typical lager, this is a beer to be enjoyed on a fine summer's day, which is practically any day in Hong Kong. Its crisp, refreshing finish will have you reaching for another one or two.

Hong Kong Beer – Dragon's Back Pale Ale (Hong Kong)

78

Medium-bodied style made famous in England for its interplay between the malt character and apparent esters typical of great ales. The judicious addition of American hops during the boil and when dry hopping serves to kick the refreshment and aroma levels up a few notches.

Hong Kong Beer – Big Wave Bay IPA (Hong Kong)

Dry-hopped, traditional West Coast India Pale Ale with a freshness and balance that can only be found in a locally brewed beer. Its robust flavours sit on a rich base of malt, complimented by bracing bitterness, and the lingering citrus and pine aromas of American Cascade hops.

Hitachino Nest White Ale (Japan)

88

A refreshing mildly hopped Belgian styled beer with a complex flavour of coriander, orange peel and nutmeg. White Ale has won gold medals at several beer competition in U.K. and U.S.

Hitachino Nest Extra High (Japan)

88

Strong Belgium Brown Ale matured in distilled Sake barrels. The final maturation takes place in Shochu cask (distilled sake) for 3 months
